

1

Birds of a feather flock together . . . perhaps the NBC logo inspired this sculpture.

2

This flower, by any other name will smell as sweet . . . thank you Shakespeare!

3

Fire up the kiln; this sculpture gets dressed up with clay embellishments.

4

A cluster of amethyst crystals provide a fairy-tale touch on this sculpture.

5

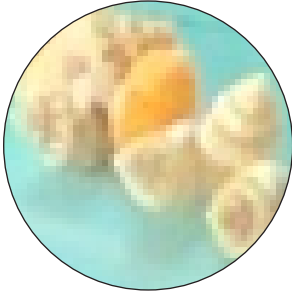

This universal symbol of love is knitted right onto the sculpture's torso.

6

You might find these on your bathroom floor or kitchen back splash. Here, they give strength.

7

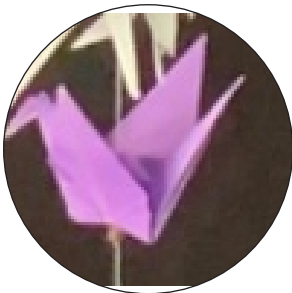

Sally sells these by the seashore . . . but on this sculpture, they form a necklace.

8

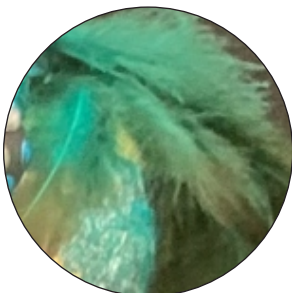

Bambi and her mother take refuge in this nature-inspired sculpture.

9

A Japanese art form creates a rainbow of hope with these birds.

10

No chips on this body part . . . only feathers. Soldier on!

11

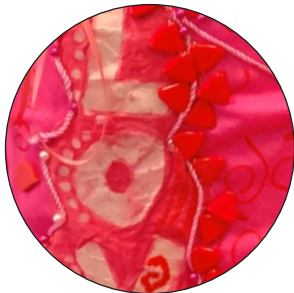

You won't find this quilted fabric on your bed . . . but you will find it on this “royal” sculpture!

12

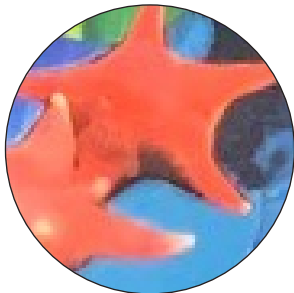

This might be found hanging from a Christmas tree . . . making music instead of adorning the torso of this sculpture.

13

According to the Beatles, “THIS” is all you need, especially if you're surviving cancer.

14

Adding a touch of color to this sculpture, these are usually found at the bottom of the ocean.

15

Travel around the world together and discover new cultures with this sculpture.